WHO IS MARK TWAIN?

Harper Collins "More than 100 years after [Twain] wrote these stories, they remain not only remarkably funny but remarkably modern. . . . Ninety-nine years after his death, Twain still manages to get the last laugh." — Vanity Fair Who Is Mark Twain? is a collection of twenty six wickedly funny, thought-provoking essays by Samuel Langhorne Clemens—aka Mark Twain—none of which have ever been published before. "You had better shove this in the stove," Mark Twain said at the top of an 1865 letter to his brother, "for I don't want any absurd 'literary remains' and 'unpublished letters of Mark Twain' published after I am planted." He was joking, of course. But when Mark Twain died in 1910, he left behind the largest collection of personal papers created by any nineteenth-century American author. Who Is Mark Twain? presents twenty-six wickedly funny, disarmingly relevant pieces by the American master—a man who was well ahead of his time.

ELEMENTARY GEOGRAPHY

Ravenio Books This little book is confined to very simple "reading lessons upon the Form and Motions of the Earth, the Points of the Compass, the Meaning of a Map: Definitions." The shape and motions of the earth are fundamental ideas—however difficult to grasp. Geography should be learned chiefly from maps, and the child should begin the study by learning "the meaning of map," and how to use it. These subjects are well fitted to form an attractive introduction to the study of Geography: some of them should awaken the delightful interest which attaches in a child's mind to that which is wonderful—incomprehensible. The Map lessons should lead to mechanical efforts, equally delightful. It is only when presented to the child for the first time in the form of stale knowledge and foregone conclusions that the facts taught in these lessons appear dry and repulsive to him. An effort is made in the following pages to treat the subject with the sort of sympathetic interest and freshness which attracts children to a new study. A short summary of the chief points in each reading lesson is given in the form of questions and answers. Easy verses, illustrative of the various subjects, are introduced, in order that the children may connect pleasant poetic fancies with the phenomena upon which "Geography" so much depends. It is hoped that these reading lessons may afford intelligent teaching, even in the hands of a young teacher. The first ideas of Geography—the lessons on "Place"—which should make the child observant of local geography, of the features of his own neighbourhood, its heights and hollows and level lands, its streams and ponds—should be conveyed viva voce. At this stage, a class-book cannot take the place of an intelligent teacher. Children should go through the book twice, and should, after the second reading, be able to answer any of the questions from memory. Charlotte M. Mason

SEMANTICS

A COURSEBOOK

Cambridge University Press This practical coursebook introduces all the basics of semantics in a simple, step-by-step fashion. Each unit includes short sections of explanation with examples, followed by stimulating practice exercises to complete in the book. Feedback and comment sections follow each exercise to enable students to monitor their progress. No previous background in semantics is assumed, as students begin by discovering the value and fascination of the subject and then move through all key topics in the field, including sense and reference, simple logic, word meaning and interpersonal meaning. New study guides and exercises have been added to the end of each unit to help reinforce and test learning. A completely new unit on non-literal language and metaphor, plus updates throughout the text significantly expand the scope of the original edition to bring it up-to-date with modern teaching of semantics for introductory courses in linguistics as well as intermediate students.

THE TRAVELLER FROM THE HEAVENS (GOODWORD)

Goodword Books This book is based on a hadith which is reported by Imam Bukhari in his Sahih al Bukhari and generally known as hadith-e-Jibraeel. In it an angel comes to the prophet and asks him several questions like Iman, Islam, ihsan and the Hour. The Prophet answers all the questions except the last one. When the angel has left the Prophet has said to his companions. "That was Jibraeel (Gabriel) who came to teach the people their religion."

WILD SWANS

THREE DAUGHTERS OF CHINA

Simon and Schuster The story of three generations in twentieth-century China that blends the intimacy of memoir and the panoramic sweep of eyewitness history—a bestselling classic in thirty languages with more than ten million copies sold around the world, now with a new introduction from the author. An engrossing record of Mao’s impact on China, an unusual window on the female experience in the modern world, and an inspiring tale of courage and love, Jung Chang describes the extraordinary lives and experiences of her family members: her grandmother, a warlord’s concubine; her mother’s struggles as a young idealistic Communist; and her parents’ experience as members of the Communist elite and their ordeal during the Cultural Revolution. Chang was a Red Guard briefly at the age of fourteen, then worked as a peasant, a “barefoot doctor,” a steelworker, and an electrician. As the story of each generation unfolds, Chang captures in gripping, moving—and ultimately uplifting—detail the cycles of violent drama visited on her own family and millions of others caught in the whirlwind of history.

TRAVEL ACTIVITIES IN A BINDER

MADE AT HOME

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform "Are we there yet?" How many times have parents heard this refrain from the kids, even before the car was out of the driveway? Kids seem to have difficulty understanding two things about traveling: time and distance. That's why parents so often hear, "How long will it take?" and "How far are we going? In addition to the classic of all time, "Are we there yet?" Traveling with kids can make a trip sometimes longer - for everyone! But do not worry; a solution is here from Activity Bags!!!Travel Activities in a Binder can be "Made at Home". Once assembled, all the activities and games come with instructions and information and require no more than a dry erase marker and eraser (which are is kept in the binder!). Some of the activities will be old favorites that maybe the kids have forgotten about, and some new, updated ones. All the activities are easy to learn and geared for elementary age! The binder is very easy to assemble, with instructions in the book. May your next trip be fun, as you look forward to keeping your travelers occupied and learning at the same time. Read what others are saying about Travel Games in a Binder.Having the Travel Activities in a Binder is great for the car but we can use it while waiting at sporting events, dance class, music class, etc. The binder is so versatile! ~ Bronwyn
It will be great to have something for the kids to do in the car verses watching movies! ~Michelle I know my boys will enjoy the Activities while I enjoy the peace in the car. ~ Megan A.Travel Activities in a Binder is great for our family because it is ready to go in a moment's notice! They are also easy to pack and keep organized! ~ Kimberly T.Travel Activities in a Binder is very versatile. We can take our binders on the road, to a hotel, restaurant, appointments and even camping! ~ Lisa W. This is a GREAT idea for trips and will keep the kids and parents interacting while in the car as opposed to popping in a DVD or electric game to keep the kids active. ~ Deborah B.We are so excited to have Traveling Activities to go! This is an excellent idea! ~ Lori G.We fit all our Travel Activity supplies into the zipper pouch, which goes into the travel binder. Over 40 fun travel activities (like tic-tac-toe above) are included in the book. More activities include ad libs, hangman, counting cows, road sign bingo, mazes, the license plate game, and so much more! Our kids have been having so much FUN with the travel binders! They've even been playing them at home!Travel Activities in a Binder provide a whole host of activities that a child can complete inside a binder using only a dry erase marker and a piece of fabric to be used as an eraser. These are great for times when you might be waiting at a doctor's office or other appointment, or when traveling in your vehicle.I gave the Travel Activities Binder to my daughter when she had to wait by herself at bell choir rehearsal. The book was a big hit instantly. She loved the variety of activities and spent the entire hour trying new things. Then I took the book back, and kept it for the next time we had to wait somewhere. It works well traveling or for while kids are waiting.
